

HOBBY'S PLANS SHOW THE GOVERNOR IS AT WORK TO BENEFIT THE STATE

HAVING made a good record in his previous administration, the governor of Texas does not seem inclined to rest on his laurels. He has the spirit of the time, which is that of service. Gov. Hobby takes up the duties of his office at this time, fortified by 16 months of successful administration which also has given him a fund of experience. From that experience he is able to see what can be done for the state.

His recommendations are embodied in a new message which he has sent to the legislature, setting forth matters which need remedy and suggesting the remedies. The governor has a clear eye for defects. He stresses the shipboard fiscal system of the state and recommends the adoption of the budget system of governing state expenditures. This is a system which is coming in New Mexico and Arizona and is in successful use in many states. It will be adopted, sooner or later, by the national government. It will come before congress at this session.

The governor also wants to upbuild the educational system by providing for nine months' terms in all districts; by consolidating weak districts into larger strong ones where road conditions will permit such consolidation and by appropriating $500,000 for that purpose. This is for the benefit of the grade and high schools. For the university and colleges of the state, he suggests a $10,000,000 endowment to be provided by a bond issue.

The governor also sees the need of eliminating the conflict of authority between the supreme court of the state and the court of criminal appeals. All Texas remember how these courts have rendered decisions contradictory to each other, leaving the issue in doubt and creating a basis for endless litigation. He recognizes, as almost all Texas lawyers have done, not to mention countless litigants, the necessity of facilitating the action of the state supreme court which now is so overburdened that cases have been known to rest in that court without decision until the litigants on both sides were dead.

Gov. Hobby is alive to the importance of the oil industry in west Texas and he advocates a two percent production tax which, he says, would have yielded the state about $1,000,000 on last year's production. The production this year will be very much greater, possibly double that of last year. It is upon the revenue to be derived from oil taxation that the governor relies to finance increased appropriations for schools without increasing the general tax rate or the assessed valuation of property throughout the state.

The governor takes the right attitude in favoring the postponement of a constitutional convention until after the return of the Texas soldiers. If the state constitution is to be altered, the men who have been at war in the army and navy assuredly have a right to have a voice in the alteration and any other course would be unfair to them.

Further evidence of the governor's determination to make this term of his office of progress and achievement is to be seen in his suggestion of further relief to the drought districts of west Texas until the crops now being planted are brought to harvest; in his insistence upon better housing conditions for land tenants; in his recommendation for a simplification and strengthening of the primary election law and in his suggestion that provision be made for further good road construction.

These are all matters of great interest to Texas citizenship. Perhaps not all of them will be carried to realization. But of them will. The fact that he has brought them up is proof that Gov. Hobby is at work for the best interests of the state.

As to the headline that "U. S. May Ban General Immigration," the young man across the way says he supposes the country must use caution about letting those European militarists get a foothold in America.

Let's be frank and admit that we all like favorable publicity and as much of it as we can get by with.

Maybe alfalfa is so high because 39,000,000 cigarettes were sold in the United States last year.

Another indication that the war is over is that Grantland Rice is shouting verse at Americans instead of shells at the Germans.

The average American will join anything but a pair of plowhandles and some of them will do even that.

Money used to talk but when it gets into the grocery store now it barely whispers.

14 Years Ago Today

From The Herald of This Date, 1905.

THE irrigation bill introduced into the senate by congressman W. R. Smith, of Texas, was favorably reported on. Every effort will be made to bring about the irrigation of about 18,000 acres of land in west Texas and the closing of contentions regarding irrigation matters between this country and Mexico. The bill provides for the construction of an international dam at El Paso.

A cruiser left Panama this morning for San Domingo with 500 marines on board for the purpose of upholding the peace and dignity of the American government in that island. Fighting has broken out in the streets in opposition to the protest recently declared by the United States.

The chamber of commerce is promoting a merchandise excursion from El Paso to Mexico, the project already having assumed definite form. A committee which has conferred with W. D. Murdoch, general passenger traffic manager of the Mexican Central, and secured the offer of very favorable rates.

Following is a report of the finances of the chamber of commerce for the year 1904: Cash balance, January 1, 1904, $18,842.75; receipts for the year, $14,184.87; disbursements for 1904, $2,814.49; cash balance, December 31, 1904, $20,213.13.

A party of expert marksmen from the east will visit El Paso soon after February 9, in response to an invitation from the El Paso Gun Club. The local club will entertain the visitors with a special shoot on the club grounds. Such live birds and blue rocks will be the targets.

"I have done 489 more business this month than for the same month last year," said A. O'Brien. That doesn't look like El Paso was dying, does it?

The Pullmans for the new E. P. & S. W. trains have been received in El Paso.

Uncle Walt's Denatured Poem.

Ambition

AMBITION'S needed in your game if you would win success or fame. The poet without it seems a cloud, content his treadmill way to plod, while men who have the splendid spur fill all the air with smoke and fur. Ambition, when it's safe and sane, controlled by wisdom's curb and rein, is necessary to the guy who hopes to reach the places high. But if you say, "I'll never stop until I reach the glowing top, regardless always of the rights of other hopeful striving wights," perhaps you'll reach the top and then discover you're abandoned of men. I'd build mud fences all my days before I'd tread the higher ways, and hear some delegates exclaim, "He never played an honest game. To push himself to higher rank he'd rob his granny's savings bank. To gain a foot on other men, he'd swipe his mother's setting hen. His thoughts are always of himself; to gain renown or gather pelf he'd push a cripple from the road, or touch a poet for his ode." In Holland there's a lovely skater who hoped to be supremely great; the rights of men he laughed to scorn, and trod upon the poorest core. What mattered it if legends died, so he increased his pomp and pride? And now he sits in shadowy gray, and swells cockroaches all the day. His fate's a lesson to us all, the fat, the lean, the short, the tall.

Skids Are Under One Board

AS suggested at the time Gov. Campbell of Arizona was inaugurated and also when the legislature convened, the opportunity is at hand to lop off some of the expensive commissions and boards which have taken up room at the capitol building and have consumed much of the tax revenue. The commission on state institutions was suggested as one of those that might be dispensed with.

Action in this direction has already been taken, with commendable promptness. State senator Campbell has introduced a bill that ought to pass. Its effect is to abolish the state commission as it now is constituted. It is comprised of several highly salaried officials who have nothing else to do and their corps of clerks. This commission has charge of the university, the two normal schools, the penitentiary (except as to pardons and paroles, which are in the hands of another board) the Pioneer's home, the reform school and the state insane asylum. Its creation was one of the first acts of the Hunt administration in a series which sent up the state's administrative expenses by leaps and bounds.

The Campbell bill would keep the commission's name but change its personnel. That personnel would include the governor, secretary of state and the auditor, all of whom are under salary for the offices they now hold and would draw no additional salary. Thus would be eliminated the salaries now paid the commissioners. The governor, secretary and auditor would employ a secretary who would be of city-manager caliber and, in effect, have charge of the business of all state institutions except the university, normals and state engineer's office and would take in the capitol building and grounds.

The bill fixes this manager's salary at $3000 a year, but that is not enough. It will not procure the services of the kind of man the office requires. It ought to be $4000 or $5000 and probably will be fixed at one or the other of those figures before the legislature gets through with the bill.

This change will not be an experiment. The institutions were under the same kind of control before statehood. The commission was then known as the board of control and it comprised the governor, secretary of state, auditor and a "citizen member." They ran the institutions economically and well then and the officials now in office can do it as well now.

Rouault As Game Warden

THE news from Santa Fe that a clear field has been left to Theo. Rouault, Jr., for the place of state game warden, is pleasing to the sportsmen in El Paso as well as throughout New Mexico, for as game warden for the past two years, Rouault has been a real officer and has impartially and effectively enforced the laws. He has the backing of every true sportsman of the southwest.

Rouault should be, appointed on his record if Gov. Larrarola wishes to reward efficiency and insure its continuance. Warm endorsements of "Ted" Rouault have been written from all over the country by leaders in the movement for the protection of the bird and animal life of the country. He stands as well in the ranks of these men as among the sportsmen at home. If it is to be a case of the man for the job, instead of the job for the man, as an Albuquerque paper recently remarked, Rouault will receive the appointment. He has been endorsed by many of the New Mexico leaders, including U. S. senator A. B. Fall, who has made only one request upon Gov. Larrarola so far as known, and that was for Rouault's appointment. New Mexico's game will be protected as long as Rouault remains in office.

Too often the woman who marries to get a meal ticket finds nothing but "3c" stamped all around the edge.

A Los Angeles paper says God made California different from every other land on earth. The writer's mind must have slipped for a moment on that "different from" a Californian in first class trim would write "better than."

Five American privates have succeeded in reaching Berlin, but the tuster of achievement is dimmed by the fact that they are marked down as "absent without leave."

The only result of hunger riots seems to be that afterward the rioters are hungrier than before.

When the Friend of the Birds Goes Away and Someone Else Feeds Them

By K. C. R.

A FEW weeks ago,

I WROTE something here.

ABOUT THE woman.

WHO FED the pigeons.

AND WHO went away.

AND I'VE so many letters.

FROM SO many places.

THAT ASK me to tell.

IF THE woman came back.

THAT I'M writing this.

TO SAY that she did.

AND THAT she was gone.

FOR SEVERAL days.

AND WHILE she was gone.

THAT ON every day.

THE PIGEONS came back.

AND LOOKED around.

AND FLEW off again.

AND BECAUSE of that.

I GOT me a dish.

AND GOT me some bread.

AND PUT out the dish.

ON THE fire escape.

AND A sign on the thing.

SAYS I shouldn't do it.

AND ANYWAY.

THIS DISH stayed there.

AND THE pigeons flew by.

AND NEVER stopped.

AND I said to my wife.

THAT WED take the dish in.

AND JUST about then.

CAME A little bird.

ABOUT as big as a minute.

AND IT hopped around.

IN THE big tin dish.

AND PECKED at the bread.

AND FILLED its crop.

AND FISHED with its feathers.

AND FLEW away.

AND I changed the dish.

TO A little dish.

AND A saucer of water.

AND THAT very same day.

THE VERY same bird.

CAME BACK again.

AND WAS tickled to death.

WITH THE saucer of water.

AND FOR days and days.

IT'S BEEN coming back.

AND I'VE moved the dish.

AND MOVED the saucer.

SO THE meal is served.

ON THE window sill.

AND I can sit by.

AND WATCH it eat.

AND IT doesn't care.

AND THE time has come.

WHEN MY wife and I.

ARE TO take a train.

AND GO away out.

WHERE THE little birds.

FIND SUMMERTIME.

THROUGH THE whole year long.

AND BECAUSE of that.

WE'VE HAD to find.

SOME FRIENDS of ours.

WHO LIKE little birds.

TO TAKE our flat.

SO THAT fool little bird.

THAT CAME to us.

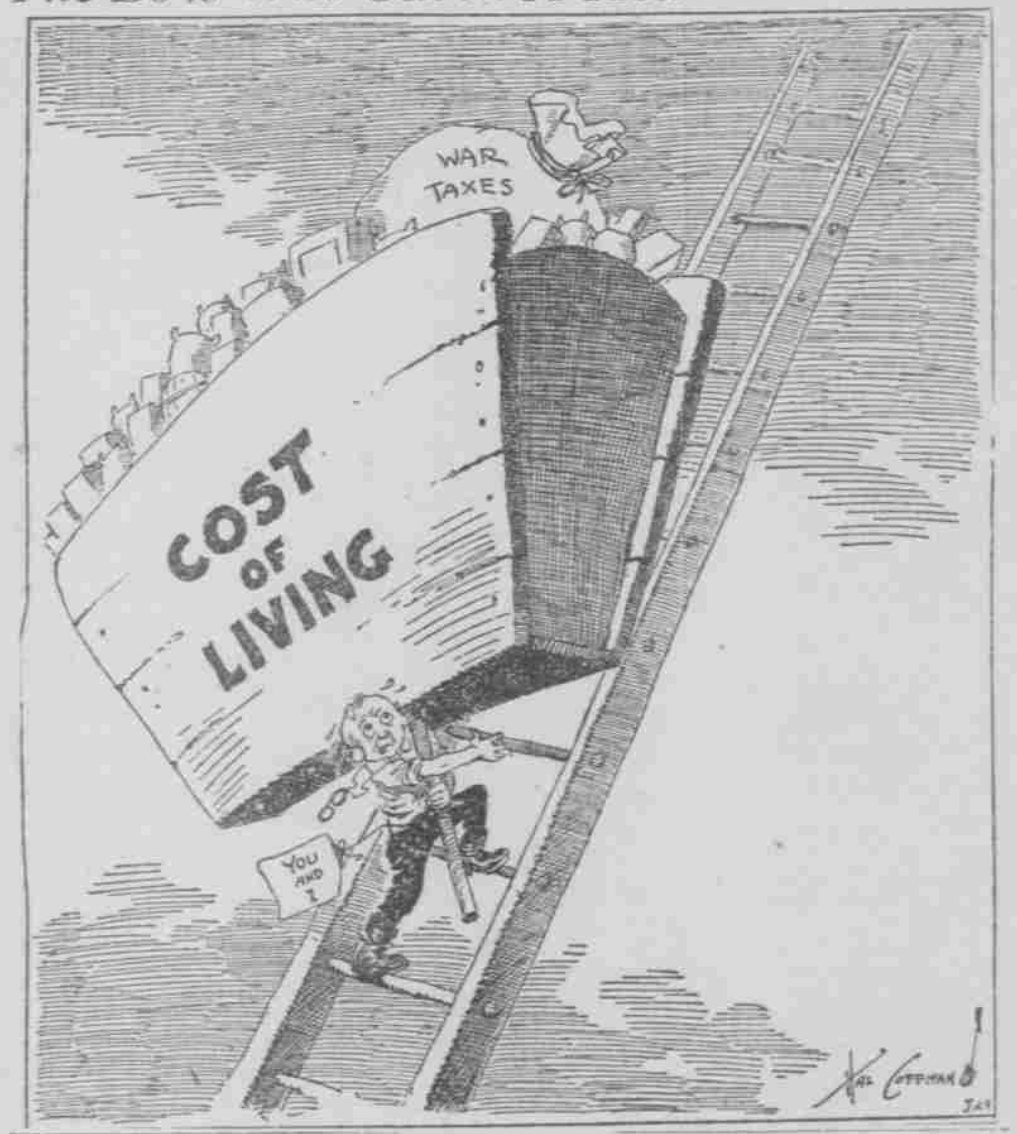

WON'T KNOW we've gone.

I THANK YOU.

SHARCBRIGHT.

Women's Wear Amazes Cowboy; He Advises Woolen Shirts Well Known Oldtimer Bought Property and Forgot It

THE strange thing to me is how women can go about these cold days in low shoes and georgette sleeves and still continue to live," said Tom Bailey. "They never seem to have any regard at all for their health. Of course, it isn't so bad for them to dress that way during the summer time, but it isn't necessary then, for even when it is warm weather, woolens are cooler than cotton materials. I've been a cowboy puncher all my life and always wear woolen shirts when on the range, for they are so much more comfortable, even in the hottest weather, than any other kind."

"The widow of the late old time El Pasoan, Judge Crosby, told me once that the judge in his life time had an extraordinary eccentricity," said an extraordinary oldtimer.
